CRCI is an international consultancy firm specializing in how to invest and do successful business in Africa while minimizing risk. CRCI houses technical experts and practitioners with extensive knowledge and experience in international trade and investment business consulting, with particular emphasis on Africa. CRCI professionals are able to navigate through the rules and regulations of African countries to uncover hidden investment opportunities. We facilitate trade and investment missions, roundtable meetings, forums, and partnership building with high level country officials to benefit the private sector.

CRCI has developed two historic and significant projects named "The Jewel of Africa" and the "RK B.O.T. PROGRAM." These programs focus on infrastructure and agriculture-led activities to generate economic growth in Africa. "The Jewel of Africa", a project conceived over a 32 - year period by Rameline KAMGA, is designed to eradicate poverty and illiteracy particularly in rural areas. Successful implementation will not only serve as a model for the rest of Africa, but also elsewhere in the world where the scourge of poverty and illiteracy afflict the population. Through this project, we greatly contribute to the reduction of environmental disaster risk. We also help to find effective public-private partnerships (PPP) through the RK B.O.T. PROGRAM. This program ensures the successful implementation of infrastructure projects in the environment and agriculture fields, and generates benefits for farming communities, private investors and local governments. We are capable of financing public and private sector projects 100%, without need for sovereign guarantee from African governments or for land collateral from the African private sector, through our RK B.O.T. PROGRAM strategy.

Through our financial partners, we have valuable financial resources for the following needs:

International Trade & Development

Entrepreneurship

Business Strategy

Business Planning

New Business Development

Commodity

Start-ups

Marketing Strategy

Venture Capital

Our services are not restricted to the above list. As a representative of world-leading investment platforms, CRCI assists clients to source and market various products, such as African Art, computers and electronics, generators, cement, rice, oil, grains, sugar, textiles, and clothes.

CRCI seeks to develop constructive dialogue on important policies and practices. We conduct objective research on key issues, and call for the adoption of best practices and policy reforms that improve economic growth and food security among the rural poor in Africa. CRCI searches for humanitarian aids to sustain economic development and infrastructure projects. We encourage joint-venture partnership with the African private sector, Governments and municipalities worldwide.

CRCI is committed to increasing the level and effectiveness of public and private investment in sustainable development in Africa. The professionals at CRCI know how to bridge cultural gaps through respect and understanding of the customs and cultures that define the people of the world. With access to and contacts in many networks, CRCI is your liaison to world industries through trade and investment missions.

CRCI is not a banking entity or broker. It is a facilitator. CRCI combines international experience and contacts with its own creativity to structure high return deals. We are a formidable force in the market, and are able to source the funds needed to realize any public or private sector project.

Our Philosophy:

Our philosophy is simple. We have built long term relationships over more than 32 years, based on fight and sacrifice, to give another dimension to our beautiful continent Africa.

A long-standing relationship of service with our African people, built on honesty and commitment, is our real reward.

Our main focus is to build relationships, increase loyalty, and make Africa's private sector competitive.

How may we help each other?

With vast worldwide experience and expertise in business opportunities, we are looking to collaborate with you as a potential technical, financial, or developer partner to advance the public and private sectors generally, and in particular, to collaborate on historical project "The Jewel of Africa".

We are looking for clients with a vision for small, medium and large industries that can rely on us to create the right partnership to solve their problems.
